“Organizations like the Safe Homes Coalition are an important piece of the puzzle in working to deal with one of the most complex and challenging issues of our time – the prescription drug abuse epidemic. By educating families about safe use, storage, and disposal of medications in the home, they may prevent a child from thinking a drug is safe just because it comes in a bottle. As District Attorney, addressing the opioid epidemic is a priority so I welcome the partnership of the SHC in helping make our homes and communities safer.”
